

THE HOSPICE HOUSE IS NOT JUST A BUILDING, IT'S A

GIFT

A gift that allows people to live their final chapter with dignity, comfort, and peace. A gift of time, of presence, of quiet, of relief. A gift that can only exist because donors choose to keep it open.

A COMMUNITY BLESSING

The Hospice House is sustained by a long tradition of generosity. When a family needs hospice but cannot afford it, the community steps in where finances cannot. Your support keeps the door open for future families.

No one is ever turned away because of cost.

WHAT IS THE TRUE COST OF THE HOSPICE HOUSE?

Your generosity is crucial to supporting the Hospice House and our compassionate care. Every dollar you donate helps us stay staffed and equipped to provide exceptional care around the clock.

FAMILIAR FACES OF THE HOSPICE HOUSE

Colby Hall

Clinical Manager, Hospice House

Colby often says she didn't choose hospice; hospice chose her. What stays with her is not the chart or the checklist, but the quiet moments when a family exhales and a patient feels safe and supported. She carries her grandmother's hospice experience in her heart and returns that gift each day with steadiness, tenderness, and faith in what this House can hold. For Colby, coming to work never feels like work – being here feels like coming home. Working at the Hospice House is a calling and something she feels deeply grateful to do every day.

Hospice House Volunteer

After the passing of her brother, Helene felt a deep calling to give back. For Helene, cooking is more than a hobby, it is her gift, one she shares generously to brighten the days of those in our care. Helene believes that food is a universal language of love, and that her meals create a sense of connection.
